

Welcome to our weekly newsletter, which this week is focused on our celebrations for World Book Day. Yesterday the children brought in their favourite books from home, I loved finding out what these books are and why the children love them so much. You will find a selection of photographs of children and staff with their favourite books. I hope that you all find some time this weekend to read your favourite book!

WORLD BOOK DAY COMPETITION

We received a huge number of entries to our book fair competition. The quality of artwork was amazing and we are so proud of all of the children who took part. The judging panel found it a challenge to pick one winner from each class - it was so hard to choose! However, the winners, who have all won a £5 voucher to spend at the book fair, are:

Noah
Nya-Mae
Quinn

Isla
